L. McMaster Leads Local Scorers With Four Goals — Return Game On Monday

Showing a world of offensive power, Stirling Juveniles defeated Wellington at the local arena last night by a score of 13 to 5. The game was played before a fair crowd and produced some fast and exciting play.

Bob Noble started it off with a goal at the 2:37 mark and there was no stopping the local snipers. K. McConnell, Mason, J. Hagerman, Donnan and L. McMaster (2) were the other goal getters. Turpin and Stacey counted for the visitors.

In the second stanza Stirling added two, Mason and D. McMaster counting, while Stacey counted one for Wellington.

The final period saw Stirling again outscore the visitors 3 to 2.

The visitors showed a fast skating aggregation but their defence had difficulty in clearing the puck and the local snipers bombarded Cole in the visitors' net.

What Others Say

OTTAWA CAN'T CURE LOCAL-ITIS

(Financial Post)

Ottawa may soon move to provide some relief for one of the main obstacles to Canadian expansion: The financial woes of Canada's municipalities. There is talk of a municipal loan fund to provide financing for local public works.

It is obvious to everyone that something should be done about the appalling decrepitude of most of Canada's towns and cities. To look at most of our communities, one would think we were one of the world's poor and backward lands.

But one of the facts of life is this: Desirable municipal spending is often held back by the creaking machinery of local government where a promise not to spend money is often the way local politicians can ensure election.

It is held back, too, by the totally obsolete tax system which depends so heavily on property tax and which penalizes the man who improves his property.

If Ottawa goes for a municipal loan fund — and encourages municipalities to do their borrowing in Canada — quite a flow of desirable results could develop and now is perhaps a very good time to give the economy this extra push.

But Ottawa needs to plan carefully the terms on which it would help with such loans. Its efforts should be to offset the lethargy and foolishness engendered by local politicians, not contribute to them.

THE BIBLE TODAY

A new Bible House was recently opened in London, Ontario, to be the headquarters of the Western Ontario District of the Canadian Bible Society. The building located on Waterloo St. will be both district administration offices and a Scripture distribution centre.

The dedication ceremony was performed by the Very Reverend John McNab, a former moderator of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, at the request of Mr. W. Cuyler Henderson, the President of the Western Ontario District. The District Secretary is the Rev. J. Thompson, a minister of the United Church of Canada.

This centre of Bible Society work begins a new era in the Western Ontario District which was established in 1879.

The General Secretary of the Canadian Bible Society, the Rev. Kenneth G. McMillan, said, "We are happy that the Bible Society in the Western Ontario District is now housed in a building of its own. This Bible House is one of the hundreds around the world in over one hundred countries from which the Scriptures flow to all men."

The Good Driver

Seven people under 20 years of age were injured recently — one critically — as the result of a two-car accident near Kingston. Reports say that the cars went out of control when the TWO DRIVERS ATTEMPTED TO SWITCH CARS while speeding downhill, side-by-side!

If this manoeuvre had been successfully completed, it would have evidenced a considerable degree of skill. But even in success, it would have been a ghastly piece of folly. It ended in failure, that may leave a permanent shadow over several lives.

Most people like to consider themselves, and to be considered by others, as good drivers. Unfortunately, too many men — and not only the younger ones — think that skillful driving is the same thing as good driving. This tragic case is an extreme, but not rare, illustration of the fact that society has the right to demand of licence holders far more than merely the physical skill necessary to operate an automobile.

Driving skill, when it is over-extended or abused on the highway, becomes more of a hazard than a safeguard, says the Ontario Safety League. Famous racing drivers have demonstrated repeatedly that superior skill is not, in itself, a guarantee of safety in traffic.

Mike Hawthorne, world champion Grand Prix driver, was killed at the wheel of his private car on an English road, last year. This summer Nino Farini, a former world champion racing driver, was sent to trial in Italy on charges of manslaughter, speeding and overtaking on a crossroad; a passenger in his car was killed when it crashed into a bridge after overtaking a light truck. Stirling Moss, British champion racing driver, has been under disqualification from driving in Britain for 12 months, after a crash while testing a car.

Skill is only one of the elements needed to make up a good driver, says the Ontario Safety League. The other requirements are: good Knowledge, good Habits and — above all — good Attitudes. A good driver is inconspicuous at all times, and any attempt to use superior car-handling ability for display, or to seek thrills, is bad driving. Skill at the wheel sometimes avoids the consequences of reckless and stupid behaviour, but it can never excuse it.

Under old business all the annual reports were given, showing a splendid and prosperous 1960.

Mrs. R. A. Patterson proceeded to install the new officers. The new executive presented a short skit entitled "Dr. W.A. Meets a Patient." This was centred around a problem brought to the doctor by the new president, "How to improve the W.A. in the new year?" She was told they lacked faith and love, they needed to pray daily and prescribed a large dose of patience in the treatment. The skit gave the members a fuller idea of the working mechanism of a W.A. Mrs. C. Potter gave a New Year's reading.

Under new business it was decided to give the new minister and his wife a pantry shower before they arrive. This will be on January 19th from 1:30 p.m. on at the parsonage. All repeated the W.A. Benediction to close the meeting.

PHYSICS PROFESSOR TV STAR

Dr. Donald Ivey, a professor of physics at the University of Toronto, has become a nation-wide television personality through his appearances on the science series "The Nature of Things" seen Sundays on the CBC-TV network. "We've given up for New Year's"
GOING WITHOUT

"Our New Year resolutions this year have a lot more to do with getting rather than giving up... thanks to the B of M."

"Seems that for many Old Years past our money appeared to just melt away, when there were so many things wanted around the house... a modern stove... a desk for Dad's den... a decent TV. Finally, it was Dad who put his foot down."

"Starting with the New Year," said Dad, "we're going to get some of the things we've gone without for far too long. We're going to finance all the things we really need under a new purchase plan I've been looking into — the Bank of Montreal Family Finance Plan. It's a modern plan that's designed for people just like us. Come the January sales, we'll get what we need at bargain prices and do our paying for what we buy with a single payment each month."

"So this year, we'll all have to watch our pennies a little more closely, but it's a challenge and the whole family is going to pitch in. Mother's the keenest of all. It's hard to say whether it's the life insurance protecting the loan, or the prospect of a new stove, that pleases her most."

"Anyway, we're one family who figures we've found the ideal New Year's resolution for 1961. How about you? Isn't it time you considered giving up going without?"

Similar Happy New Year Resolutions may be put into force for YOUR family at your neighbourhood branch of the

Christmas Concert

The annual Christmas concert arranged by the teacher, Mrs. Sharp and pupils of S.S. No. 2, was held at the Sentinel Hall on December 21st with a large number in attendance.

Mr. G. Whitehorn was chairman for a varied and well prepared programme. Anyone in attendance would be glad they do not live in an area where the traditional concert no longer is staged. One cannot name all the numbers but two or three seemed to prove most entertaining. For example Alex Brunton's monologue, "The Rehearsal, (original); Gary Wilson's, courting problems in his "Merry Oldsmobile" and toe tapping rhythms of

THE SKELETON IN THE CUPBOARD

The skeleton in the cupboard these first days of January belongs to one — Tom Turkey. The mystery is — how to get rid of him under the watchful eyes of your family and yet create an element of surprise. The Consumer section in Ottawa suggests you use the meaty parts in a delicious casserole called "Turkey Cassoulet" — and serve up the bones in a piping hot soup.

Turkey Cassoulet

- 1 1/2 cups white navy beans
- 2 cups water
- 1 28-ounce can tomatoes (3 1/2 cups)
- 1 cup chopped onion (1 medium)
- 1 clove garlic, finely minced
- 1 1/2 to 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 tablespoon sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 teaspoon savory
- 1 pound skinless sausage, cut in 1/2" pieces
- 2 cups diced cooked turkey
- 2 tablespoons minced parsley

Soak beans in cold water to cover for 8 hours or overnight. Drain. Place in large saucepan together with water, tomatoes, onion, garlic, salt, sugar and pepper. Cover, bring to a boil. Cook gently for 1 1/2 hours, stirring occasionally. Add savory and sausage and simmer for 30 minutes. In a greased 8-cup casserole arrange half bean mixture, then turkey, then remaining beans. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degs. F.) for 20 minutes. Just before serving sprinkle with minced parsley. Six to eight servings.

Turkey Vegetable Soup

- 1 turkey carcass (from 20-24 pound turkey)
- 9 cups water
- 1 20-ounce can tomatoes (2 1/2 cups)
- 1 cup sliced celery
- 1 cup chopped onion (1 medium)
- 1 1/2 tablespoons salt
- 1/2 teaspoon poultry seasoning
- 1/2 teaspoon pepper
- 1 cup uncooked rice
- OR 1/2 cup uncooked noodles
- 1 package frozen mixed vegetables (11 ounces)

Break turkey carcass into pieces and place in a large kettle. Add water, canned tomatoes, celery, onion, salt, poultry seasoning and pepper. Cover, bring to a boil, then reduce heat and simmer to 1 1/2 hours. Remove bones and strip off meat. Add meat, rice or noodles and mixed vegetables. Cover and continue to simmer until rice or noodles are tender, about 20 minutes. Makes about ten cups.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

A NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION

Here's a suggested Resolution for Canadians. If everyone adopted it, there's little doubt but what 1961 would turn out very well indeed, you are welcome to adopt it.

"During the next 12 months I shall do by best to be a good citizen, a good neighbour, a useful person. I shall follow the precept of the great religious leader, John Wesley, who said, 'Work all you can, gain all you can, give all you can.'

"I shall do my level best to provide for all the needs of my family and myself, so that I shall not be a charge upon others. Indeed, it will be my goal to earn enough to give a helping hand to others if need be.

"I shall refrain from asking others to do for me anything which I might rightfully be expected to do for myself. And I shall encourage friends and neighbours to take a similar attitude.

"Whatever my job, I shall do it well, because I know that the best efforts of all men and women are required if Canada is to remain strong and free in these perilous times. I know that when I work efficiently, my neighbour is able to buy the goods or services I produce at a more reasonable price. The more efficiently I work, the more goods or services can be bought with a dollar bill — whether it be the dollar of an old-age pensioner, or the dollar in my wife's purse when she goes out to shop for our family.

"I firmly resolve to be a force for good in my community by reforming myself rather than seeking to reform my neighbour. I shall look for the good in others and try to get rid of the bad in me.

"I know full well there will be many times when I shall be tempted to be a drag on society, rather than a driving force. There will be times when the urge to be small, or mean, or selfish will assert itself. On such occasions I shall ask myself if such an act will help or hurt Canada. If it hurts Canada, in the long run it will hurt me, too, and hurt my children.

"In brief, each day of the New Year I shall direct my every act to this end; that I shall give full value to everyone with whom I deal."

Cooking Comments

In making gelatin dishes, the aim is to obtain a product that will hold its shape but be tender and not too firm at serving temperature, advises the Food and Nutrition Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph. When cut with a spoon, the mold should offer little resistance and quiver "like a bowlful of jelly."

Vegetables need not always be cooked, even during the winter. In fact, good food rules recommend one serving of raw vegetables per day. Salads can provide nutrients, roughage and variety quite easily during the winter months. Try such combinations as these: shredded carrots, chopped apples and celery or shredded cabbage; chopped apples, seedless raisins and lemon juice. These may be served with a favorite salad dressing or combined in a basic gelatin base.

The red color of red cabbage will be intensified when an acid food such as lemon juice or salad dressing is added. When the cut edges of red cabbage come in contact with hands or knives, they may turn blue because of a simple chemical reaction. These changes are normal and will not affect the usefulness of red cabbage as a winter salad ingredient, advises the Food and Nutrition Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

Vitamin C, which is contained in varying amounts in most vegetables and fruits, is unstable to heat and air. Therefore, the maximum amount of this vitamin is obtained from good sources such as cabbage, turnip and cauliflower when these vegetables are served raw and as soon after preparation as possible.

Did You Know?

That it may take 12 times more distance to stop your car on snow or ice than on dry pavement.

That you may lose up to 60 per cent of your car's pulling power if you spin your wheels.

That at 20 m.p.h. and 0 degrees temperature you may stop your car in 140 feet; but at 30 degrees temperature it will probably take 240 feet. That the polishing action of tires spinning and sliding at intersections makes the road surface more slippery.

That the old practice of lowering the tire pressure to get more traction on slippery roads is no longer effective with the modern low-pressure tires.

Hal Wright, safety specialist with the Ontario Department of Agriculture suggests you study these five safety facts. The knowledge might save your life.

Television -- Good Or Evil

Editor's Note: The following editorial appeared in Health Magazine, official publication of the Health League of Canada. It was written by Dr. Gordon Bates, General Director of the League.)

Much has been said in magazines, on television panels and elsewhere about the impact of television programmes on the youthful mind and there is no doubt that since television penetrates or intrudes itself into the living-rooms of most North American homes, it can be a great force for good or evil. To ignore this fact is merely to prove oneself guilty of irresponsibility.

When one sits in a single night through four successive westerns, replete with gunplay, hangings and murders, for adults it is merely a matter of a couple of hours wasted which could have been used to better advantage reading a good book or doing something to advance the interests of the community. A continuous diet of this television drivel does little to ameliorate the intellectual indolence which is too often characteristic of the humans who make up modern society.

But when children are exposed to a continuous glorification of violence, gangsterism and gunplay, it becomes a serious matter; and vice, even when the vicious commonly come to a bad end, too often seen may come to be regarded as commonplace as to be considered of little significance one way or the other. One may share with Alexander Pope the observation that it may be indeed first endured, then pitied and then embraced — at least by some whose mental stability is less than it ought to be. How to sift the wheat from the chaff, the junk from the useful in television programmes is indeed a serious problem. It is considered very smart to blame parents for allowing their children to listen to a silly or dangerous programme. But surely there is a responsibility on some higher authority to see that morally bad programmes are not foisted on the public. After all, parents are not always gifted with the wisdom of Solon.

The remedy — a Will Hayes for television, perhaps. It seemed to be a useful device in the Motion Picture Industry some years ago and since the motion picture industry only acted when forced to act by public opinion, so may it be with television. The cynical action of some television panelists toward the question will only call public attention to a problem which needs constructive action.

Don't Underestimate Measles

Measles is a common disease, however, it can and often does develop serious complications, warns Dr. C. S. Anglin of the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto.

Writing in a recent edition of the magazine Health, official publication of the Health League of Canada, Dr. Anglin said it is wise to know something about the disease to help offset the possibility of someone in your family getting seriously ill from what looks like a standard case.

Few diseases in childhood are misdiagnosed as often as measles, said Dr. Anglin. The confusion is due to the fact that there are a number of virus diseases which have rashes that look like measles but are caused by entirely different infecting agents.

Simple measles has several characteristics. The symptoms make their appearance from ten to fourteen days after the patient has been in contact with another person who has measles. They usually begin with a head cold, sneezing, nasal congestion, cough, bleary eyes and some fever. And an examination will reveal whitish dots on the inside of the cheeks adjacent to the molar teeth. Several days later a rash appears — a red, blotchy eruption on the skin. Simple, uncomplicated measles causes acute discomfort and usually only lasts about one week. However, it can easily be confused with similar infections such as Roseola, German Measles and Echo Virus infections. Frequently only a doctor can tell the difference.

Dr. Anglin says, if you or your children have not had measles and are exposed to a case it is wise to take the immediate precaution of taking anti-measles serum or an injection of gamma globulin to prevent or at least modify any case you might develop.

Here are some of the serious complications of measles and its related infections. Most of them affect the respiratory tract and the nervous system. Among them are Pneumonia, obstructive laryngitis, measles, croup or tracheitis, lung infections and measles encephalitis, which often affects the brain and may leave permanent damage. German measles may have a serious effect on an unborn child if a mother contracts the disease within the first three months of her pregnancy.

Dr. Anglin concludes, don't treat measles lightly and if any unusual symptoms appear, consult your doctor immediately.

It's Snow Time For Accidents!

The wondrous world of winter (for children that is) brings a complete new set of hazards for the young and active child. Sledding, skiing, skating, all have their attendant dangers.

Perhaps the greatest danger is in going to and from these sports. The early darkness which descends so quickly catches many youngsters still dragging their sleigh home from their favourite hill. Parents who dress their children in dark clothing are adding to their danger. Bright clothes are best, but if your child is equipped with a dark coat invest a few cents in a colourful scarf or better still sew on some reflective tape or cloth.

The Ontario Safety League offers these additional suggestions for the winter-wise parent:

1. Always teach your child to sleigh on a hill free of obstacles, and where the end of the run won't wind up on the street or road.

2. For skating, encourage a supervised, approved rink where possible. If a frozen pond is used make sure it's tested carefully by an adult first. Point out to children that the skate blade is as sharp as a knife, and should be treated with the same respect.

3. Make sure your child learns to ski properly, and conquers gentle slopes first. Ski poles can be a help or a hazard. Be sure they are used properly.

CONSERVATION NEWS

LOST DOGS

Hundreds of dogs are lost annually during the deer hunting season, and as the result a second season opens on the retrieving lost dogs after the deer season closes. Local radio stations and newspapers are still advertising dogs lost and dogs found. Department of Lands and Forests Conservation Officers are receiving the usual number of inquiries from hunters who have lost their dogs during the hunt.

Some of these lost dogs show up at local farms in the area where they were used by the hunter, while others travel many miles from the point where they became separated from their owners. Often local residents have dogs of their own and make every effort to find the true owner, through local newspaper advertisements, often without success. The greatest problem in locating the owner of dogs is the lack of identifying marks on these animals. It would seem most desirable for hunters to mark their dogs prior to taking them into strange brush country by clipping their initials in the hair along the flanks of the animal.

Painted patches on the back or flanks is also effective for the short duration of the hunt. Elastic rubber bands with a tag attached with the owner's name and address has been used effectively in some instances.

Without some special distinguishing marks placed on their dogs owners will continue to encounter difficulty in identification, and hinder their prompt return.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

TIME AND MOTION STUDY MADE ON DAIRY CHORES

3.3 miles!

That's how much farther than others some Ontario dairy farmers walked when doing chores in the barn every day. These surprising results have just been reported by the Farm Economics and Statistics Branch, Ontario Department of Agriculture. The study was made on farmers who are under the province's D.H.I.A. program.

"We found that chore time can be cut, in many cases, with little or no cash outlay," reports economist Dr. L. Patterson.

Time and record of movements were recorded for every operation and for all workers doing daily chores. A scale diagram of the buildings and routes travelled was drawn. A thread was used to measure the distances travelled. These were the economists' main findings:

Preparing Equipment

The time to do this seemed to be controlled mainly by placement. A milkhose easily accessible to the barn or parlour, with shelves, hooks, and taps — all in strategic, close-together positions — let operators assemble equipment in the easiest and fastest time, with little or no walking.

Milk Care

Carrying milk was a big time-waster. Sometimes a farmer might waste time carrying one pail when he could easily have carried two. Pipeline setups, dumping stations, and milk carts cut the chores.

Handling Cows

Distance from barn to pasture is the main factor. A trained dog helps. With yard and parlour systems, some trouble occurs with getting the cows into the milking parlour. The most trouble occurred when the cows were on good grass. A small holding area and a moveable chain (to keep cows close to parlour) helps.

Hay and Straw

The fastest workers went up and down stairs once a day, putting down all their requirements for the whole day. Widely-separated chutes for hay and straw, and chutes far away from the stalls were time wasters. Hay and straw at both ends of the barn — with a chute serving each end — saved time. Opening up bales near the place of use saved carrying forkfuls of haylong distances.

Feeding Silage

Running the silage cart up to the silo and putting the silage straight into the car saved handling (forking from floor to cart). Silage carts should be large enough (extra side boards) to hold all the silage for one complete feed. Keep stable floor clean of hay so cart can be pushed easily.

Stable Cleaning

An electric barn cleaner did the fastest job as long as one man wasn't needed to watch it while it was carrying the manure out. A high pressure hose and pails of water do the fastest job of sluicing parlours and holding pens.

Milking Routine

Moving the wash pail close behind each cow when washing udders — rather than leaving it in one position, for a large number of cows — saved a lot of walking. Farmers with the fastest milking time per cow, kept the interval between washing and machine start between 1 and 2 minutes. Fast milkers — through training heifers and culling slow milkers — kept the milking time per cow down to 3 minutes with no loss in milk yield. Routine is important. Keep high yielders near the milkhose end and dry and mastitic cows' at the other end; this arrangement avoids having to carry the big quantities of milk over the longer distances, and cows are milked in the order they stand. Two men doing the milking are seldom twice as fast as one man, because of an uneven work routine and work repetition.

INFECTIOUS SYNOVITIS BECOMES MORE SERIOUS

Look closely the next time you see a lame bird; it may be suffering from an insidious disease called synovitis. Almost unknown before 1955, the infection has assumed quite serious proportions the last three years.

"More birds are being condemned, particularly in the broiler chickens," says O.V.C. poultry pathologist, Dr. M. C. Connell. "Also, higher than normal mortality occurs in laying hen and turkey flocks when synovitis is a problem."

The disease is hard to recognize, he cautions. You may notice lameness and birds walking with a stiffness. If you pick up a bird and look closely you will notice swollen hocks and perhaps swollen foot pads and wing joints. Sometimes a large breast blister is associated with the disease. Also, affected birds frequently have pale combs, ruffled feathers, and a greenish diarrhea. Birds under seven weeks seldom show evidence of the disease.

Prevention? The disease is caused by a micro-organism. The alarming thing is that the germ is transmitted through the egg. The main responsibility for prevention lies with the owners of breeding flocks.

"If the disease is known to be present in a potential breeding flock, the eggs shouldn't be used for hatching purposes. Brooding and laying pens should be cleaned and disinfected before restocking," he explains.

"If synovitis is definitely established in a flock, one of the tetracycline antibiotics can be administered in the feed or drinking water."

He cautions, however, that a definite diagnosis should be established before treatment is given. The "indiscriminate use of drugs" is not only detrimental to a flock but costly, he feels.

He suggests submitting birds that have the synovitis symptoms to either your veterinarian or the Poultry Pathology Laboratory, O.V.C., Guelph. Birds can also be sent to diagnostic laboratories at Ridgeway and Kemptonville.

HOG CHOLERA

Farmers are warned against feeding kitchen scraps to their hogs.

Veterinarians with the Health of Animals Division, Canada Department of Agriculture, urged that extra precautions be taken in the wake of new outbreaks of hog cholera in eastern Ontario and southwestern Quebec.

To date, 46 infected premises have been reported and a total of 8,671 hogs slaughtered. Of these, 40 have been in Quebec and six in Ontario.

Infected pigs were found on four farms in the Napan area of Russell County recently.

The latest cases, veterinarians say, can be associated with the primary outbreak of cholera, or have been brought to light by diligent tracing of the movement of all hogs from infected, or suspected premises.

Officials at Ottawa repeated the warning against feeding garbage scraps and at the same time appealed to farmers not to visit other pigeries or have visitors to their own.

Timely Tips

Next time it rains, look for leaks in eaves-troughing, missing down spouts and run-offs. It might sound like a small thing but Ontario Department of Agriculture extension engineer, Ross Milne, feels it's one of the main causes of farm building deterioration. Stone-wall foundations especially are affected; most have shallow footings. If, for instance, the down spout is off, the water runs beside the building, seeps under the foundation and when it freezes — it heaves and cracks the wall. Once the wall starts cracking, water gets into the cracks and will hasten the break-up of the whole wall.

Don't use tarpaper as a mouse guard for young fruit trees, warns O.A.C. botanist, C. B. Kelly. Fumes given off by the tarpaper during bright sunny days in late winter or early spring, may kill the bark of young trees. Use wire, building paper, aluminum foil or basket veneer. He suggests setting the guard about 3 inches into a mound of fine crushed stone or cinders. Clear away the grass for a distance of 2 feet from the trunk.

Urea and ammonium nitrate can be put on wheat after freeze-up unless there is danger of their washing away on sloping land, says Norm Thomas, O.A.C. soils expert. In O.A.C. tests, nitrogen on fall wheat in November or early December increased yields 10 bushels per acre (as much as from nitrogen applied during the first two weeks in April). When application was delayed until May 20-25 the nitrogen increased yields only 6 bushels per acre.

A few years ago when a calf had pneumonia it may not have required treatment. The situation has changed. The Farm Service Department of the Ontario Veterinary College estimates that the death rate from calf pneumonia may run as high as 50 per cent. The infection is more virulent now. As soon as you notice a calf off feed, depressed, or not doing well — isolate it and call professional help for treatment.

INTRODUCING ONTARIO-GROWN CERTIFIED STRAWBERRY PLANTS

In the spring of 1961, for the first time, Ontario strawberry growers will be able to buy Ontario-grown strawberry plants certified as having been grown according to the Strawberry Certification Programme of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

The regulations governing production of plants under this programme are designed primarily to keep virus infection at a minimum. However, tolerances regarding nematodes, cyclamen mites, red stele, June yellows, winter injury, and black root are also set forth.

Even though commercial varieties seldom show symptoms of virus, the importance of viruses in reducing rigour and yields is widely recognized, point out C. L. Ricketson, Horticultural Experiment Station, and J. V. Shannon, Farm Products Inspection Service. Experiments at the Department's Horticultural Experiment Station at Vineland and at other stations in Canada and the United States have demonstrated the reliability of performance of certified plants as compared with plants produced under conditions where comparable precautions to control virus spread were not taken.

The certification programme for Ontario was designed by officers of both the provincial and federal Departments of Agriculture, and both departments co-operate in its operation.

Strawberry viruses are spread by the feeding of certain aphids. Aphids capable of spreading viruses are present in Ontario plantings, and the spread of viruses has been demonstrated in commercial plantings. Therefore, plantings of certified stock should not be planted closed to uncertified stock. Also, growers should buy certified plants each year, when starting a new planting, to be assured of getting healthy stock. Remember: certified plants cannot be expected to perform at their best under favourable conditions of plant storage, planting, and culture.

Limited quantities of certified plants of the following varieties will be available this spring: Catskill, Cavaller, Earldawn, Empire, Grenadier, Guardsman, Midland, Pocohontas, Premier (U.S.L.A.), Redcoat, Redglo, Sparkle. Certified plants of Ontario Premier are not available. Growers who will have certified plants for sale are:

Albert Cross, R.R. 3, Streetsville
McGulgan's Orchards, at Cedar Springs, Ontario.

Norfolk Farms Ltd., Vittoria, Ont.

Certification tags must accompany each package of certified plants; these tags are the seller's guarantee that the plants have in fact been certified.

New Year's Meeting of St. Paul's Women's Missionary Auxiliary

Baskets of flowers and quiet music made an attractive setting for the New Year's meeting of St. Paul's United Church Missionary Auxiliary on Tuesday, January 10th.

Mrs. Geo. Carlisle was in the chair and gave some interesting remarks on "Beginnings" in which she stressed the importance of the spirit in which we begin our undertakings. She followed with prayer.

Mrs. Patterson opened the devotional service with the hymn "Breathe On Me Breath of God", followed by prayer. The Scripture Lesson was read by Mrs. Waite.

In her New Year's remarks Mrs. Patterson said: "At the threshold stands God ready to cross it with us. Let us not hesitate to look at the record of last year. Paul said, 'This one thing I do, forgetting which are before.' He did not forget his errors but he did not let them prevent him from going ahead."

Mrs. Macklin conducted an impressive installation service, closing with a hymn.

A New Year's reading, "Let Us Face 1961 with firm courage as the Lord leads" was followed by a poem "A Way to a Happy New Year."

To leave the old with a burst of song, To recall the right and forgive the wrong;

To forget the thing that binds you fast To the vain regrets of the year that's past;

To have the strength to let go your hold Of the not-worth-while of the days grown old;

To dare go forth with a purpose true To the unknown task of the world that's new;

To help your brother along the road To do his work and to lift his load; To add your gift to the world's good cheer,

Is to have and to give a Happy New Year.

In her story of the year Mrs. Luey reported letters written to Miss Evelyn Matthews, a missionary at Yorkton, Sask., and to Miss Muriel Stephenson, a missionary in India.

A reply letter from Miss Matthews was read; also one from Mrs. A. Armstrong, a former Stirling resident and zealous W.M.S. worker.

Mrs. Richardson spoke on the Seal of the United Church, explaining the various emblems on it.

Mrs. Thompson reported for the Supply Committee and outlined new work for this year.

Mrs. Hough, Treasurer, reported that the allocation had been reached. Coming events of special missionary interest is the World Day of Prayer, February 17th and the meeting of Belleville Presbyterial at St. Paul's February 20th and 21st at which Miss Kate Rutherford from Africa and Mrs. B. The usual W.I. openings were completed with the Secretary reading the minutes and completing the details of the correspondence. The money asked for by the Secretary-Treasurer of the P.W.I.O., Toronto, for meeting the expenses at the Ottawa Office of the W.I. was granted.

Mrs. C. Gay was appointed to take complete charge of the "Pennies for Friendship" endeavour. The sick folk were to be remembered with cards; also an invitation to the District President, Mrs. E. Phillips, Belleville, to meet with Stirling W.I. for the next meeting at Mrs. E. Luey's in February. Mrs. L. Bronson will be responsible for this.

60th Anniversary Observed By Mr. and Mrs. Thos. A. Kerr

(Oshawa Times)

Married in Markdale Methodist Church on Christmas Day, 1900, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Kerr, Wilson Road S., Oshawa, attained their diamond anniversary on Sunday. In failing health Mr. Kerr was taken the previous week to the Queen Elizabeth Hospital, Toronto, and Mrs. Kerr is staying in the city with a daughter in order to be close to him.

The couple have been making their home in Oshawa for the past two years and are both members of the local Gospel Hall.

Mr. Kerr was born in Ireland at Mountmellick where his father kept a chemist shop. Some years ago he made a tour to the land of his birth and found the old shop still in business.

Mrs. Kerr, the former Elizabeth Jane Ricketts, is descended from an old French-Canadian family that settled in Scarborough some two hundred years ago.

Her great grandfather, Pierre Pelletier, who later changed his name to Peter Pikey, was engaged in transporting a big anchor from Rouge River to Penetang by way of Holland Landing, an enormous distance in those days.

The anchor was carried on a spruce wagon, built by himself and pulled by a team of nine oxen. He travelled at about four miles a day by the Old Ridge Road and Danforth Road. He guided the anchor and cannon as far as Holland Landing where a special raft was waiting to ferry them across the river. A current swept the vessel about and the anchor was lost overboard.

It was retrieved later and now stands in Holland Landing Park, a few miles north of Toronto.

Mr. Kerr retired in 1941 after forty years association with the T. Eaton Company, and the couple made their home in Stirling, for 17 years, then in order to be nearer their family they came to Oshawa in 1958.

They have two daughters in Toronto, Mrs. Norman Purves (Eileen) and Mrs. Frank Skinner (Virgie); a son, Mr. T. Claude Kerr, of Ringwood, near Stouffville, and Reverend E. S. Kerr, pastor of the Snowdon Baptist Church in Montreal. There are 12 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren, the youngest, a baby girl, was born last Monday.

Mrs. Byron Seeley Hostess To Wellman's W.M.S.

Mrs. Byron Seeley was hostess to the Woman's Missionary Society of Wellman's for the opening meeting of the New Year on Tuesday, January 2nd.

The President, Mrs. Omar Dracup, presided, using "Thanksgiving" as a basis for the programme. The Missionary Theme Song was sung, followed by a General Thanksgiving Prayer from the Hymnary. The hymn "O For A Thousand Tongues To Sing" was sung.

The Scripture Lesson, Luke 17: 11-19, was read by Mrs. A. Akins, followed by a prayer of thanksgiving by Mrs. Dracup. Another hymn, "Through All The Changing Scenes of Life" was sung.

The minutes, read by the Secretary, Mrs. Clifford Clancy, were approved. Several paid their membership fees for 1961. It was announced by Mrs. Fletcher that Wellman's went over their allocation for 1960. Little Miss Janice Clancy took up the collection which was dedicated by Mrs. Dracup.

Little Miss Janice Clancy gave a piano solo. Mrs. Jack Dunham gave a reading entitled, "One Step Nearer," Mrs. Byron Seeley gave a reading, "Light of the Year." Mrs. Kenneth Tompkins gave two short readings, "The Free Seat" and "Recipe for the New Year." Mrs. John Carlisle also gave a reading.

Rev. W. G. Fletcher introduced the new study book entitled "Into All The World Together." He told of the beginning of the teaching of Christianity in Palestine and the continuation of the missionary work reaching out each year further from this centre.

Fifty years ago the missionary conference was in Edinburgh, the first International Christian Conference, with people as delegates from all denominations. This brought out the idea of unity in Christian Churches, to spread the gospel and since, this has grown tremendously. The Church became most united during the war. The next conference was at Delhi. The missionary work continues to reach out year after year to different parts of the world with all denominations taking part in this work.

Mrs. Dracup thanked the hostess and all taking part in the programme.

The hymn "Will Your Anchor Hold" was sung and Rev. Fletcher closed with prayer.

Mrs. Seeley and her assistants served refreshments while all enjoyed a social half hour.

Keith Brown, M.P.P., Native of Rawdon, Chosen "Man of the Year"

Peterborough's "Citizen of the Year" (1960) is Keith Brown, M.P.P., the country's elected representative in the Ontario Legislature. This is the first time since its inception in 1950 that the award has gone to a political figure. Two city mayors and one city alderman (Max Swanson, John Dewar and Alene Holt) have received the award but they were strictly in the municipal non-partisan field.

In this eleventh annual city-wide poll conducted by The Review, during the months of November and December, to find Peterborough's most worthy citizen, Keith Brown received an overwhelming number of votes cast by Review readers. A strong contender in 1959, in spite of the fact he had only been elected to office in mid-year, the Peterborough member this year received the strongest support yet given to a "Citizen of the Year" nominee. From the first week of balloting it was obvious that Keith Brown was "heading the poll" although ballots also poured in for Sgt. Bill Scott of the Peterborough Police Force and the man in charge of Peterborough Safety Patrol. For the past three years Sgt. Scott has been a strong contender for the award.

For the eleventh year in succession the B'nai B'rith Lodge will honor the "Citizen of the Year" at a banquet. This is usually held in March with an outstanding guest speaker for the occasion. Last year it was the Hon. Howard Green, External Affairs Minister. At this banquet the lodge presents an illuminated scroll to the "Citizen."

Car Dealer

Known to the public originally as a reputable car dealer, Keith Brown entered politics in 1959 after the resignation of Harold Scott from the provincial field. He was quickly accepted by the public although he had no previous political experience, and in the summer election of 1959 was elected to the Ontario House by some 6,000 majority. Only 31 years of age at the time, he was, and is, one of the Province's youngest members.

His charm seemed to rest in the honest acknowledgment that he was not a public speaker and no experienced politician. His promise to work hard for this riding was not an idle one, and it is undoubtedly his untiring and dynamic efforts for the City and County of Peterborough that won him such strong support in the polling for "Citizen of the Year 1960."

It was obvious from the start both Mr. Brown and his wife Marjorie were highly thought of in Queen's Park circles where the Peterborough member quickly made himself known after his 1959 election. He expresses open admiration for Premier Frost and his cabinet. He has had all but two cabinet ministers visit Peterborough, and the Premier has been there three times.

In his first year the Peterborough member was made chairman of the Highways Committee and also the Highways Safety Committee. He worked conscientiously on the select committee which was studying compulsory insurance as a possibility for Ontario, and visited the western provinces and three of the United States on this study. This year's committees will only be chosen when the Ontario legislature re-convenes later this month.

Hard Worker

Even when the house is not in session Keith Brown makes it a habit to be in the Parliament Buildings at least one day each week. He personally checks on each request or complaint originating in his riding. He receives some thirty five to forty letters per week and he in turn makes sure that every contact from a constituent is answered by letter. Often he will do this from Toronto on the very day on which he has untangled some problem for a Peterborough resident. In insured.

KEITH BROWN, M.P.P.

all Ontario departments he has earned the reputation for being fair but absolutely tenacious when he feels he has some justified remedy to obtain for his riding.

He has been known to sit for three hours in a cabinet minister's office, refusing to come away without an answer to his problem. The story is told of Keith Brown dropping into one department, leaving a Peterborough companion in the car while he picked up an important letter. "It'll only take 15 minutes but I won't come away without this letter — it's very important to Peterborough," he casually remarked as he left the car. Two hours later he came out waving the letter, saying, "It took time, but I got it."

This is typical of Keith Brown. Harold Scott, who was 17 years on the job, including an important cabinet post, has remarked, "It's a good thing Keith's a young man, because he's working like a dog!"

Covers Whole Riding

People admire him for the way he plunged right into his work on which he spends about three quarters of his time. He tries to cover the whole riding at least every three months and some parts once a month. He has visited every township council and will continue to do so. Fortunately his car business is well administered by such assistants as Lorne McCartney and he is consequently able to spend the majority of his time on provincial affairs. He is never very far away from his office, however, keeping in constant touch by telephone. He feels it is smart both in business and in government to make yourself available as much as possible. At times he is difficult to catch, but if he learns that someone is trying to find him he is just as liable to drop into their house at midnight on his way home.

After the death of Peterborough's federal member, the late Gordon K. Fraser, an additional load fell on the provincial representative since constituents looked to him for assistance in problems with Ottawa as well. This additional work during the time Peterborough was without a federal member was never publicized.

The Review does not consider it in good taste to bring party politics into this particular summary. The award is non-political, as a glance at the past 10 winners will show. Suffice it to say that Peterborough's newest "Citizen of the Year" is doing a job for his riding which is beyond the call of duty, and this has obviously been recognized by his supporters in the recent balloting for this award.

— The Peterborough Review.

Woodbeck — Coombes Nuptials At St. Mark's

St. Mark's Anglican Church, Bonarlaw, Ont., provided a Christmas setting for a pretty winter wedding on Tuesday, December 27th at 11.00 a.m. In the wedding, solemnized by the Reverend R. G. Fleming, Lois Marcella Coombes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Coombes, of Frankford, became the bride of James Ronald Woodbeck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Woodbeck, of Stirling.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attired in a floor length princess style bridal gown of satin faille, trimmed with sequins and pearls. With her veil of tulle held by mother of pearl hair band she wore earrings and a necklace of pearls, the gift of the groom and carried a bouquet of red and white roses.

Mrs. Veve Curtis, of Oakville, acted as her sister's matron of honour, while Miss Mavis Coombes, sister of the bride and Miss Barbara Woodbeck, sister of the groom, as bridesmaids, added charm to the bridal party. In the brilliant winter sunshine their red velvet dresses and gloves, white feather head bands and red and white carnations emphasized this Christmas season. Miss Sherry Cretney, cousin of the groom, dressed in matching red velvet and with red muffs and similar flowers, made a very dainty flower girl.

Mr. Carl Pitman, of Stirling, was groomsmen, while Messrs. Marvin Tanner and Barry Hewton, of Stirling, and Mr. Gary Woodbeck, of Bloomfield, were ushers.

For the reception in the church hall the bride's mother, in a blue velvet dress and accessories with a corsage of pink roses, received the guests, assisted by the groom's mother in a cinnamon brocade dress with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Leaving for a short honeymoon trip in eastern Ontario and New York State, the bride chose a blue dress and accessories with a beige coat and corsage of blue carnations.

On their return "Sally" and "Ron" will reside in their home on Wellington Street, Stirling.

Cracked Doll

She wears a hat inside and out, In any kind of weather; It's not because she's chilly— But to hold her head together.

Yet old, familiar things Are often dearest after all; Tonight, all cuddled in her arms, Is poor, old "last year's doll!"

CANNED TOMATOES — CONSUMER QUESTIONS

The Home Economists of Canada Department of Agriculture answer questions consumers are asking about canned tomatoes.

Question — Are all canned tomatoes equally good quality?

Answer — No. The quality of canned tomatoes depends on the grade. There are three grades and in order of quality they are: Canada Fancy, Canada Choice, Canada Standard. The grade is marked clearly on the label of the can.

Question — What are the chief differences between these grades?

Answer — Canada Fancy canned tomatoes — the highest grade — are skinned and cored, whole tomatoes with a flavour and colour typical of the well-ripened fruit. Although they may be slightly cracked or split they retain their original shape. Canada Choice canned tomatoes are also skinned and cored. They have a fairly uniform colour and good flavour. They contain almost whole tomatoes, along with large and small pieces. This grade is the most commonly used one and therefore the most readily available. Canada Standard canned tomatoes have no uniformity in size and shape of pieces but they do have a fairly good colour and flavour.

Question — How would you use the different grades?

Answer — Canada Fancy tomatoes could be broiled or seasoned and served hot or cold, as is. They could be also used in salads. Canada Choice tomatoes are suitable as a vegetable or in casserole dishes where some uniformity of colour and shape are desired. Canada Standard tomatoes are best suited for soups, stews and scalloped dishes.

Question — In what size cans are tomatoes to be found?

Answer — There are two sizes —

30 fluid ounces or 2½ cup size and the 28 fluid ounces or 3¼ cup size. The size by fluid ounces is marked clearly on the label. It is convenient to buy the size you need so that you won't be one cup short or have an extra cup left over to take up refrigerator space.

Question — Can you give me an idea for using canned tomatoes as a vegetable — something quick but with enough taste to see special?

Answer — Try Herbed Tomatoes. Simmer in a saucepan for 5 minutes 1 28-ounce can of Canada Fancy or Choice grade tomatoes, 1½ tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon sugar, salt and pepper to taste, 1 bay leaf or 1 teaspoon sweet basil or savory. Six servings. Try Spicy Tomatoes — Simmer together in a saucepan for 5 minutes 1 28-ounce can of Canada Fancy or Choice grade tomatoes, 1½ teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon onion juice, 1 teaspoon sugar, 1½ teaspoon salt. Six servings.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

IF YOU'RE HOMELY READ THIS

I talked to the television producer after he had auditioned some thirty hopefuls. He was feeling low. He had hired a boy and a girl, but neither was quite what he had hoped for.

I was surprised. Seldom in my life, I told him, had I seen so many beautiful girls and handsome young men.

"That," he sighed, "is precisely the trouble. Most of that gang were so darn good looking they had no character. TV needs personalities. These good-looking kids get told by all their relatives and friends they ought to be on TV. Chances are ten to one that if some guy with a pug nose, big ears, and a wide, friendly grin had come in for an audition, we'd have grabbed him. Was Clark Gable terribly handsome? Are half the movie queens really beautiful in the usual sense? No darn chance. Features need to be different, even a little scrambled, if you're going to get a distinctive character before the cameras."

Well, I don't know about TV. For my money, they still seem to choose the handsome boys and the statistical girls, but I get sick of them. I saw a youngster on TV the other day who would be called homely by his pals but he looked mighty good to me, with his ears sticking out and his nose tipped up. And I suppose some would say that Joyce Sullivan is too tall, but to me she radiates real charm and personality. She's a little different, and she doesn't have that vapid uniformity of features some people call beauty. Everybody at our house thinks she is beautiful and we'd like to see her on TV more often.

When I was a young lad, I used to worry about my prominent Adam's apple. Lord knows how much I tortured myself on that account — and so needlessly. Looking back now, I realize most of my good-looking friends wound up with wives who can't touch mine for looks. I asked my wife just now if she'd ever had misgivings about me on account of my Adam's apple. Her exact reply was this:

"Good heavens, no, I kind of liked it. Most girls like homely men best." So you see, sonny, if you're worried about your looks, forget it.

"Variety meats" is a term applied to the highly nutritious parts of beef, veal, pork, and lamb that are classed as organs, not muscles, but which are used for food. The use of variety meats is recommended because of their high nutritive value and economy, points out the Food and Nutrition Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

Brains and sweetbreads are alike in that they are both tender and have a delicate flavour. Sweetbreads are the thymus gland of beef, calf and lamb. Both the brains and sweetbreads should be used only when fresh, and they should always be parboiled before being prepared in any other way.

Wash brains or sweetbreads in cold water. Simmer for 15 minutes in water, adding one teaspoon salt and one tablespoon vinegar for each four cups of water. The acid helps to keep them white and makes them more firm. Drain. Drop into cold water. Remove any tubes or membranes. Further preparations may include slicing or breaking into small pieces and scrambling with eggs, or dipping into melted butter and broiling.

Children's Aid Society Makes Appeal For Funds

This week the local Children's Aid Society will launch its first public appeal for funds in many years in the Towns and Villages throughout the County. In the City of Belleville it is a member agency of the United Appeal.

About 5 years ago, the Society, assisted by greatly increased municipal grants, placed protection and prevention workers in the field on a full time basis. The idea was, of course, to prevent as many children as possible from becoming so seriously neglected as to make separation from their parents and wardship inevitable. At the same time, the Society's adoption program was stepped up. To-day, there is every indication of the venture having been a success.

Between January 1956 and December 1960, four hundred and forty-eight children have been admitted to protective ward care, five hundred and fifty-five have been discharged from custody and two hundred and sixty-nine placed in adoption. At the end of 1960 the Society was caring for one hundred and seventy children, the lowest number in many, many years.

The money for which the Society is asking (and sorely needs) is used for providing services to children and families specifically designed to prevent neglect and keep homes intact. It is also used to assist the unmarried mother arrange for her confinement and plan intelligently for the future of her child. Any unmarried mother regardless of her status or creed, may seek confidential help from the Children's Aid. Many do.

A contribution of One Dollar or more entitles any citizen of the County of Hastings to Membership in the Society and participation in its work. The Children's Aid is a non-profit organization incorporated under the law of the Province of Ontario, and supervised by the Department of Public Welfare. It is governed by a Board of men, women and elected municipal representatives who serve without remuneration. In the community it is a vital force for good. It merits your support!

THE BIBLE TODAY

A recent Occasional Bulletin of the Missionary Research Library reveals that the highest proportion of Protestant Christians are to be found in the Pacific area, North America, Europe and sub-Saharan Africa — in the order given. The sparse population is in the Middle East and North Africa; less than one percent of Asia is Protestant Christian. About eight percent of the world's population today is Protestant, seventeen percent is Roman Catholic, and five percent is Orthodox and Ancient Eastern, a total of thirty percent.

The need for greater Scripture distribution is revealed by the fact that if present rates of growth in world population and in the Christian Community continue, the proportion by the year 2000 A.D. maybe only five percent of the people on our globe.

The total distribution of the Scriptures in 1959 reported through the United Bible Societies, the co-operative body in which twenty-three Bible Societies work together, was 29,538, 629.

The yearly increase in world population, as reported by the United Nations is between 47,000,000 and 49,000,000.

The Good Driver

Considering the density of traffic in Ontario cities, and the noticeable prevalence of unsafe driving by "bumper riding" motorists, it is perhaps surprising that rear-end collisions are not even more commonplace.

An Ontario Safety League official had a close-up view of a rear-end smash recently. The details of the incident interested him, not because of any unusual features, but because it was so typical of the "minor accidents" that drivers invite so consistently.

Morning rush hour traffic was in town as well as on the highway.

travelling on the outskirts of Toronto, at the permitted speed of 40 m.p.h. A string of cars in the passing lane were spaced about 20 feet from each other — which, in good conditions, is a safe distance for speeds up to 15 m.p.h., but not above. Approaching a crosswalk, the leading driver applied his brakes as a pedestrian signalled his intention to cross the road. He braked with moderate firmness, but each successive car crowding behind had to brake more sharply to avoid a collision. Number five in the line didn't quite make it.

No one was hurt, and the drivers did not seem to be particularly shaken. The most noticeable thing about the driver who had plowed into the other's rear bumper was that he seemed to be very indignant. He made it clear he had been hard done by. Someone had callously involved him in this thing that was going to mean delay, trouble and expense. He was undoubtedly angry with someone, though he probably couldn't decide whether to focus his indignation on the driver ahead for stopping suddenly, or the car manufacturer for not giving him brakes that would do impossible things, or the people who think that pedestrians deserve consideration and introduced the crosswalk system.

It is an additional misfortune to someone who consistently drives to close to other cars, and finally crashes into one of them, that he seldom knows whom he can blame.

The Ontario Safety League reminds drivers . . . if you do not keep back from the car ahead at least one car length for every 10 m.p.h. of speed, you are in a vulnerable position if the driver in front brakes sharply. And the other thing to bear in mind, whenever you see a crosswalk sign ahead, is that cars often do brake sharply at crosswalks.

DOMESTIC BLISS

On a warm spring evening they had arrived home from a party.

Taking off her hat the wife confronted her husband and proclaimed: "I'll never take you to another party as long as I live!"

"Why, what have I done?" asked he. "You asked Mrs. Jones how her husband had been standing the heat," said she.

"Well, what's the matter with that?" said he!

"Matter?" stormed the wife. "Her husband has been dead two months!"

With the increasing prosperity consumption of meats and dairy products, including eggs, has risen in Canada. The circumstance is now believed to be a contributing cause for the increase in heart disease in Canada.

Many people mistakenly believe that they don't need seat belts because they drive mostly in their own communities, rather than on long trips. But the Ontario Safety League points out that three out of four traffic deaths occur within 25 miles of home. Your seat belt can protect you in town as well as on the highway.

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

PROTEIN LEVELS DOWN IN GRAINS

There is some evidence to indicate that the protein levels of 1960 Ontario grown grains are down.

Dr. D. N. Huntley, head of the O.A.C. Field Husbandry Department, states that "some of our biggest feed manufacturers have reported low protein content in wheat, oats and barley. When averaged out, the protein level for oats is 9.5 percent, for barley is 10 percent, and for wheat is 9.5 percent."

If these figures truly represent the protein levels of Ontario's grains — and Dr. Huntley cautions that his sampling is "by no means complete" — the proportions of grain to concentrate in home-mixed rations might well be adjusted. Pig feeds especially will be affected.

Garnet Norrish, of the O.A.C. Animal Husbandry Department, recommends 17 percent protein for creep feed and starters; 15 to 16 percent protein from weaning to 110 pounds; 13 to 14 percent protein from 110 pounds to market weight; 15 to 16 percent for breeding boars and nursing sows; and 14 percent protein for dry sows.

In the past, Ontario farmers have obtained these feed levels using an oat and winter wheat protein percentage of 11 and a barley percentage of 12. Obviously, a pig feeder who feeds to borderline levels would find himself in trouble if he mixed the same proportions of this year's grains: concentrate as he did last year.

"Concentrate prices are lower this year," says Norrish. "Soybean oil meal, for instance, is down considerably from 1959. It won't be too expensive to raise the concentrate levels in the ration if you feel the protein levels in your grain might be down."

A grain mixture of last year's barley, oats, wheat in a 5,3,2 mixture averaged just slightly less than 12 percent, he reasons. This year these grains will probably average 10.5 percent total protein. By using 84 parts farm grains and 16 parts of a 38 percent hog concentrate, a 16 percent hog grower ration could be made with last year's mixture.

If the same ratios of grain and concentrate are used this year, the feed will be about 15 percent total protein or 1 percent lower in protein than last year's feed.

A hog grower ration would be at the minimum range and a farmer might have to slightly increase the amount of protein concentrate in the feed this year.

How can you tell if the ration is low or borderline in protein?

Slow growth is the most obvious sign, says Norrish. Farmers who have fed minimum amounts of protein in the past will be most affected. An additional 25 to 50 pounds per ton of a 38 percent hog concentrate should be enough to obtain a good growing feed. Other hog feeds need a proportional increase.

Beef and dairy cattle rations won't be affected as much as swine rations but some adjustments might be made. If winter milk production hasn't held up as expected, a deficiency in protein might be the cause, says Bruce Stone, of the Animal Husbandry Department. A dairy ration containing 1 to 2 percent more protein might be needed.

IDEAS ON INSTALLATION OF HEATED WATER BOWLS

If your stock waterers have been freezing up this winter, you may be interested in frost-proof ones for next year. It's sometimes hard to make a decision about which type of unit to get — there are many available. Perhaps extension engineer John Turnbull's advice will be of help.

The Ontario Department of Agriculture specialist states that heated waterers range from units just big enough for 1 steer or hog to drink from at a time, to dual and pan-type units with greater capacity. The single units, says Turnbull, start at about $45 each and some of the larger units run up to about $175.

Manufacturers supply installation information with the bowls. You shouldn't have any trouble mounting the units and connecting them to water and electrical supply. But Turnbull feels you might keep some of the following ideas in mind.

A reinforced concrete pedestal or slab must be poured, complete with anchor bolts to suit the particular make to be installed.

Don't place watering units in the bedded area. Animals will wet a large area around the bowls. Heated water bowls "should not freeze up even when located outside" if properly installed, says the extension engineer. A sunny spot that is sheltered from the wind will reduce power consumption and ice buildup around the bowl.

It's best to bury an 8 to 10 inch tile (or non metallic pipe) vertically in the soil directly below the waterer. The bottom of this pipe should extend at least 4 feet below the frost line. In most locations in Ontario, this means at least 7 feet below the surface of the ground. Why bury the pipe? All the commercial watering units depend on soil-heat alone for the prevention of freezing of the water supply line.

Don't allow the water supply line, or the flexible water connection from the supply line to the bowl, to get too close to the concrete or unheated parts of the watering bowl; heat is quickly lost to the colder parts and the line will freeze.

Electric wiring is usually brought in from below ground, says Turnbull. Connection is made in the top of the tile to the watering bowl. Electric power can be supplied through lead-sheathed cable with galvanized steel armour (BXL or ACL), or it can be drawn through galvanized pipe raceways buried beneath the slab. Electric wiring, he cautions, must be completely sealed against moisture in this type of installation.

If the metal bowl is bolted to the concrete base, it's best to make a tight seal to prevent cold drafts from entering the tile and freezing the water line. A good way to provide this seal is to spread a band of caulking compound between the bowl and the concrete base. When the bowl is bolted down, the caulking compound flattens out and seals the crack.

Three precautions should be taken, advises Turnbull: buy only C.S.A. approved equipment; have a competent contractor make the electrical installation; and have the job inspected.

WEED ERADICATION

Eradication of weeds by herbicides is a long term undertaking, tests at the Indian Head, Sask., Federal Experimental Farm, have shown.

E. V. McCurdy, field husbandry expert, says treatments with herbicides for 14 years, applied annually to two wheat crops and to summerfallow in a three-year rotation, have not greatly reduced the numbers of weeds in treated as compared with untreated plots.

The treatment of summerfallow, he says, was expected to reduce the number of cultural operations but proved of little value because of the growth of volunteer grain.

An ester and an amine of 2,4-D and an ester of MCP were applied annually at two rates — a light rate against susceptible weeds and a heavy rate against those more difficult to control. Each treated plot was compared with an untreated one.

Weed counts taken in 1960 indicate a noticeable reduction in the number of susceptible annuals, such as stinkweed and lamb's quarter, and some reduction in the number of Russian thistle, particularly in the plots where the heavy rate was used.

The results indicate that dormant weed seeds plus the few weeds that escape the herbicide treatments, together with possible re-infestations by wind and implements, are sufficient to keep the potential weed population only a little below that of untreated plots.

As a test of the cumulative effect of the herbicide treatments, part of each summerfallow plot was left unworked in 1960. Weeds were abundant on all plots, much more so than expected after almost 100 percent control of susceptible weeds during the past 14 years.

The treated plots had fewer weeds than the untreated ones; however, it is evident that herbicide treatments will have to be continued for an indefinite period.

WATCH LEPTOSPIROSIS — IT CAN BE PREVENTED

During recent years it has been found that leptospirosis infection in North American cattle and swine is more widespread than originally suspected. Dr. P. J. G. Plummer, Director of the Animal Pathology Laboratories of the Canada Department of Agriculture, believes that although this increase may be real, it could be due merely to the greater use of diagnostic facilities. These facilities are continually being improved through joint field and laboratory research.

Some Symptoms

In adult cattle leptospirosis results in abortion and a decrease in milk production. However about 75 percent of the animals infected do not show symptoms but they may shed the infective agent in their urine for some weeks. In calves the infection is usually severe and results in the appearance of blood in urine and then death.

In swine the disease is less apparent but may occasionally cause abortion. Infected swine shed leptospirosis in their urine for many months. Investigation of a recent outbreak in calves revealed that they had been in direct contact with infected sows.

In most outbreaks in cattle in Eastern Ontario and Western Quebec, however, no association with swine has been observed.

Among wild animals found to be carriers of leptospirosis are mice, rats, moles, hedgehogs and skunks but their role in relation to the disease in domestic livestock has not yet been fully determined.

Effective control of this infection is simple. Leptospires are much more dangerous when shed into a favourable environment; they will survive for many days in wet alkaline surroundings but die rapidly on dry ground or pasture, particularly when the soil is acid. Cattle should not be exposed to surface water which has been contaminated with urine. Vaccines are available but their effective practical application is difficult.

CONSERVATION NEWS

TIMBER

During the past five years approximately 300,000 trees have been planted on open and semi-open areas over some 900 acres in Griffith Township. The sites are excellent for red and white pine and natural regeneration is very good in places. At present, the area also supports a scattered stand of very large, faulty, branchy, diseased red and white pine.

The natural development of the young trees will be considerably slowed in such a situation. Growth is slower and when the tops of the young trees begin growing into the large trees, much damage is done. In addition, the logging of such an area always is difficult particularly as the young growth reaches 2" to 3" DBH. Many trees are crushed or damaged through skidding.

In consideration of these facts it was deemed necessary to have a logging operation immediately so that the logs could come out on a heavy snow keeping damage to a minimum. No local operator was prepared to do the logging however, due to the low value material that would result. Fortunately money had been allocated for stand improvement of this type by the Timber Branch so a logging crew was organized which began work recently. It is expected the job will last well into January and about 70,000 FBM of pine logs will be placed on skids for sale by tender in the spring. It is expected that the sale of this material will bring very little more than cost of manufacture but the timber will enter the industrial market resulting in benefits in an indirect manner through taxes of various kinds and of course through increased local employment.

WINTER ICE FISHING FOR PICKEREL

Anglers are already taking advantage of the longer open season for pickerel in district lakes. Normally the season closed for this species on December 31st. New regulations governing the open season came into effect in 1960, which now permit anglers to take pickerel during the new season, May 15th to March 31st, next.

Field Officers report that angler's catches are fair in most lakes that are presently being fished. Baits most commonly used consist of small minnows, while some anglers use only the small spinner type lure.

For best results, minnows or artificial baits should be fished close to the bottom over rocky shoals and along shorelines, as pickerel invariably frequent these areas during the winter months.

Winter anglers are again reminded to keep the ice surface clean, and to refrain from cutting trees and brush along shorelines for shelters.

Council Against Joining Lower Trent Valley Conservation Authority

Special Meeting Held Monday Night—Bylaw No. 607 Passed To Borrow Money

Stirling Council is opposed to joining the Lower Trent Valley Conservation Authority according to a decision reached at a special meeting held in the Council Chambers on Monday night. Reeve C. E. Bateman presided and all members of Council were in attendance.

This decision was reached following a report by R. Philp, delegate to a meeting of Councillors and Reeves at Campbellford last week when the formation of the Authority was discussed. Reeve Bateman also attended the meeting. It was felt that Stirling would only benefit indirectly and the cost of membership would gradually increase. The Provincial Government will match the money contributed to the authority by the seventeen municipalities involved. A second meeting will be held in Warkworth in the near future when a definite decision will be reached on the matter.

The state of finances of the Village was discussed and Bylaw No. 607 authorizing the borrowing of $35,000 to meet current expenses, was given its several readings and passed.

The placing of warning signs around the sewerage lagoon was left in the hands of the Property Committee.

Chief of Police D. Ketcheson addressed Council regarding an additional allowance for mileage, but final decision in this matter was left in abeyance until he has completed his year's service.

Fire Alarm System

Fire protection in the Village in all its aspects, was discussed with Council by Fire Chief R. E. Fox, who among other items proposed that a new system of telephone fire calls be instituted in the Village. Under the proposed system a phone call to any one of a number of firemen would result in him sounding the siren by touching a button and permit him to pass information as to the location of the fire, etc. along to other members, thereby speeding up the action of the brigade.

Chief Fox was instructed to ascertain if other members of the Brigade were agreeable to the installation of the new system and to report to Council.

Chief Re-engaged

Council decided to re-engage Chief Fox as a salary of $300.00 and Harold Juby, as cemetery caretaker, at $1700.00, an increase of $100. Their names will be added to the Bylaw appointing municipal officers before its third reading.

Councillor B. Jones, Chairman of Streets, reported on complaints received concerning the failure of residents to clear the sidewalks adjacent to their properties following a snow storm.

Boy Scout Paper Drive

The local Boy Scouts will collect waste paper on Saturday next, January 21st. Citizens are asked to tie their paper in bundles or put it in cartons and place it at the curb early in the morning for the pick-up. The guests were welcomed and following the games refreshments were served by Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon McIntosh, Mr. and Mrs. John Kane, Miss Eleanor Bush, Mrs. Jack Bush, Mrs. E. C. Hay-Ellis and Jack Sager.

Proceeds amounted to over $19.00.

Basketball Season Opens at H.S.

BOYS' GAMES

The two Stirling-Rawdon District High School boys' basketball teams suffered defeat at the hands of the Tweed squads here on January 12th.

The juniors lost a close one by a score of 27 to 22. The local team started fast but could not stop the visiting squad from making long set shots. Andy Faulkner was Stirling's high scorer.

In the senior game it was just a case of the locals not being able to sustain their opponents' attack in the last half. The score was 56-36 for Tweed with Ronnie Heath being the leading scorer for Stirling.

Won At Marmora

Two boys' basketball games were played at Marmora on January 18th with Stirling winning both.

The junior boys' team defeated Marmora in a thrilling game. It was close all the way but in the last few minutes of the final quarter the locals pulled on the points, making the score 36 to 27. Howard Jeffs scored the most for Stirling with 16 points.

The senior game was actually won before it started. Marmora was disqualified because it did not have enough eligible players. An exhibition game was played with Marmora defeating Stirling.

GIRLS' GAMES

Last Thursday afternoon, January 12th, Stirling High School girls' basketball season officially opened with a game at Tweed. Anyone watching the senior game would be sure to say it was a hard fought game.

The score sawed throughout the 8-minute quarters until the score with 30 seconds left to play was 22-22. The final score was 24-22 with Bernice McCurdy, team captain of Stirling, scoring the winning basket. Whew! The high scorer for the seniors was Anne Reid with 18 points.

Due perhaps to a lack of co-ordination and practice the juniors suffered a defeat at the hands of Tweed juniors.

Marmora Juniors Win Here

Marmora was entertained last night at Stirling High School. Stirling juniors after their defeat last week made a good comeback but were unable to defeat the ever-pressing Marmora juniors. The final score was 10 to 6.

Seniors Win

It is thought that the senior game set a record for a low score, 5 to 3 in favour of Stirling. The match was hard-fought but everyone felt that both teams were "off" in the shots for a basket.

THE BIBLE TODAY

The Spanish translation of the Bible made in 1569 by Casiodoro de Reina has achieved a place in the hearts of Spanish Protestants in the last 400 years that equals the love that English Protestants have for the authorized version (King James) of 1611.

Some of the language of de Reina's translation is not well understood by people today. Therefore, a full revision of this translation has been taken in hand with a view to preserving the grandeur of the original language. The Revision Committee has set itself the task of incorporating contemporary usage while conserving the style and meaning of the beloved text.

Special features will be incorporated in this revised edition such as a new set of references to help the reader to find parallel passages and references to historical events. A new concordance separately bound, containing approximately 45,000 lines, will set out practically all major Biblical words, with context lines, providing easy reference to the more important passages in which such words occur. There will also be headings to identify significant portions of the text, aerial perspective maps to provide bird's eye views of the ancient world and a convenient new table of weights and measures.

Minister—"Mr. Smith I felt so sorry for your wife when she had that terrible coughing spell during the service."

Mr. Smith (dryly)—"Don't be too sorry; she had on her new spring hat."

"O, steward," came a disconsolate groan from a passenger as he clung to the rail of the tossing ship, "how far are we from land?"

"Mile and a half, Sir," came the reply.

"Thank heaven! In which direction, steward?"

"Straight down, was the unsympathetic reply."

The History of Casa Loma, Toronto

(By Mrs. Luella Bronson)

The following items are a few clippings of the history of Casa Loma, Toronto, a beautiful old building, nestled on a hillside with well kept lawns. A number of the News-Argus readers will be somewhat interested in its story, as last Fall a bus load of thirty-three Horticultural members attended the first International Rose Show held in this building. As one wandered from one room to another each seemed more beautiful than the one before. This castle is situated on one of Toronto's most attractive and most expensive residential areas.

Casa Loma was built between 1911 and 1913 by the late Major General Sir Henry Pellatt. It cost him $2,000,000 and he stated it was worth every penny he invested in it.

Sir Henry did the planning himself, travelling to Europe several times to inspect more imposing castles. It has swimming pools, thermostatically controlled steam heat for each of the 93 rooms, three bowling alleys and at that time the finest indoor range in the world. There were 30 bathrooms, 25 fireplaces, an elevator and stables valued at $250,000.

During his ownership, Sir Henry entertained extensively, some parties with three thousand guests. Crowds were never too large. Being a soldier, he often entertained a full regiment of one thousand soldiers. But after the high entertainments the expenses soared. When the castle was built taxes were $6,000 yearly and through his constant improvements 10 years later the taxes rose to $1,000 each month.

In 1924 Sir Henry began to tire of mingling with the celebrities and yearned for a more quiet life, so he sold his much loved and memorial Casa Loma. His furniture, at the time it was made, cost him $500,000, but all the auctioneer could get was $150,000.

A New Yorker purchased the castle and he spent $200,000 changing it into a luxury apartment hotel — but the castle lost its attractiveness only through the expensive upkeep. So Casa Loma went back to the city of Toronto. Finally the Kiwanis Club took over the castle in 1937 and they too returned the place as a tourists' attraction. The Club has since collected admissions from more than 2,000,000 visitors, business being brisk the year around.

Little can one imagine the expense related to such a huge and beautiful building. One might add that if Sir Henry Pellatt had viewed its beauty at the International Rose Show he would have been persuaded to repurchase it. Every room was blooming with rose arrangements from every country in the world and members of the Stirling Horticultural Society can with pride lift their hats in admiration to the District Director, Mrs. J. S. Sheppardson, of Kingston, for planning this most enjoyable trip. Thanks go to the committee who arranged for transportation. Thanks girls!

Public Orchid Days Set For Dale Estate

Would you like to enjoy thousands of tropical blooms in mid-winter Ontario?

If so, this is your invitation to the annual Orchid Days — Sunday, January 22nd and Sunday, January 29th — at the famous Dale Estate in Brampton.

Highlights of this cold weather treat for flower lovers — under a million and a half square feet of glass in one of the world's largest greenhouses — will be:

More than 60 varieties of exotic orchids, which originate in the tropics — South America, the Celebes Islands, India, Sumatra and the Philippine Islands.

Hundreds of thousands of gardenias, carnations, daffodils, tulips, chrysanthemums, roses and scores of others.

An opportunity to discuss horticultural problems with professional gardeners.

Suitable tuneful music broadcast through all greenhouses.

And an opportunity to make a donation to assist the Brampton Rotary Club's summer camp for children.

Here's a tip — you'll be wise to arrive early to avoid the noon and afternoon crowds. The first 1,500 women will be awarded with a gift of flower preserver to keep cut flowers fresh for days longer than normal.

These annual Orchid Days are presented through the co-operation of the Dale Estate, the Brampton Rotary Club and The Toronto Telegram.

Car drivers entering the Brampton area will be directed by red Toly "T" signs to the Dale Estate at Voddon St. and No. 10 Highway.

Entered Into Rest

MRS. WILLIAM RAY

In failing health for the past five months, Mrs. Margaret Blanche Ray, of Holloway, Ont., died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hazen Stairs, 53 Elizabeth Crescent, Belleville, early Monday morning, January 16th, 1961. She was born in Rawdon Township 79 years ago, being the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Jeffrey and had resided at Holloway for the past 57 years. She formerly lived in Huntingdon Township.

Mrs. Ray was a member of Bethel Zion United Church and when health permitted was an active worker in all branches of the church and especially in the Woman's Missionary Society. She was also a member of the Women's Institute of the district and contributed greatly to the community life of her neighbourhood. Mrs. Ray was a highly respected resident of the community, a splendid neighbour and firm friend to a wide circle who will sincerely regret her death.

Surviving are her husband, William Ray, four sons, Percy and Gordon, of Holloway; Clifford Ray, Belleville; Floyd Ray, of Plainfield; three daughters, Mrs. M. D. (Hazel) Wellman, of Ottawa; Mrs. Hazen (Ann) Stairs, of Belleville; Mrs. Roswell (Edna) Reid, of Holloway, and one brother, John A. Jeffrey, of Long Beach, Calif. Also surviving are fourteen grandchildren and twelve great grandchildren.

The funeral took place on Wednesday afternoon, January 18th at the J. R. Bush Funeral Home, Belleville. Rev. Robert Nicholls officiated. Interment Foxboro Cemetery.

Mrs. F. Laycock Hostess To W.A.

On Thursday afternoon a good attendance of members assembled at the home of Mrs. T. Laycock for the first meeting of the year.

Mrs. Laycock extended a warm welcome to all, especially the visitors, Mrs. Keller and Mrs. Runnalls.

The President opened the meeting with a poem and a prayer and had for her theme, "The Beginnings." Mrs. A. Heath read the Scripture from John 1, followed by the lesson thoughts, given by Mrs. H. Elliott.

The members responded to the roll call by mentioning the number of sick calls made in the month. The Treasurer's report for the year was very gratifying.

The programme was in charge of Mrs. S. Hoover. Readings were given by Mrs. McKeown, "A New Year Is Your Opportunity To Live;" Mrs. Runnalls, "How Did You Serve Your Fellow Men" and Mrs. Don Heath gave a story of Joseph Scriven, author of the hymn "What A Friend We Have In Jesus," as written by her former pastor, Rev. A. MacKenzie.

Mrs. Hoover had for her topic, "Life is like a grindstone, which if it grinds you down or polishes you up, depends on you."

Mrs. E. McMullen conducted an interesting contest, after which a delicious lunch and social time closed a very pleasant afternoon.

St. John's Evening Guild

The January meeting of St. John's Evening Guild was held at the home of Mrs. Stewart McArton with nine members present.

The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer, followed by a reading, "A New Year's Thought," by the President, Mrs. E. Carr.

Roll call was answered by a new thought to make the meetings more interesting. The business was taken care of and this portion of the meeting was closed with the Guild Prayer.

Mrs. Carr gave a reading, "Handy Hand," followed by a contest on other lands.

Dainty refreshments were served and Mrs. G. Mouck moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. S. McArton and her co-hostesses Mrs. E. Carr and Mrs. G. Morrow and a social half hour was enjoyed.

Laundry Quandary

Do the neighbours laugh when your wash goes out?

Does your laundry give them fits?

Do they say, "Dear me, well it's plain to see

That she isn't using 'Blitz'."

Do your sheets turn gray every laundry day?

Are your husband's shirts a mess?

Then you're using "Blitz" and it serves you right

If they're tinged with yellowness.

Mrs. Smith says, " 'Whee' is the soap for me.

It removes all deep-down dirt."

On the other hand, Mrs. Jones says, "Land!

I use only liquid 'Squirt'."

Well, the latest test shows they're

All the best

And I'm so confused about

The one we should try, the one we should buy—

That I've sent the laundry out!

Britain's Royal Society for the Prevention of Accidents has approved a device which tests driver reaction time after drinking, the Ontario Safety League reports. The driver inserts a coin into the machine and tries to stop the coin before it goes down. If it is stopped in less than 1.2 seconds, the coin is returned. Otherwise, the coin is lost and a warning is issued that reaction time is slowed.

According to Chicago authorities, men aged 45-64 have the greatest chance of death from coronary heart disease. One in 10 men in this age group have a 50-50 chance of dying of a coronary.

In Memoriam

ACKERS — In loving memory of Clare Ackers, accidentally killed on January 18th, 1958.

Time may heal a broken hearted But it cannot fill the longing For the loved one gone before.

Who shall say the grief is lessened Though smiles hide the tears Memories keep the wound still open With the passing of the years.

—Lovingly remembered by Mom, Dad, Brothers and Sisters. 48-1

SCEA — In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Lydia Blanche Scea, who passed away nine years ago, January 16th, 1952.

My thoughts wander as daylight fades, To the land of long ago; And memory paints the scenes of old In the gold of twilight glow.

I seem to see in the soft dim light, A face I love the best;

And I think of her when the sun's last ray Goes down in the far-off west.

—Remembered by a loving husband, Jacob Scea, son Clarence, daughter Lottie and grandchildren. 48-1p

The Ontario Safety League asks you to remember that a dirty or ice-covered rear window in your car reduces your ability to see what is behind. What is also important is the fact that it reduces the ability of following drivers to see what is ahead. Drivers get a lot of information about traffic conditions through the rear windows of cars they are following, especially on city streets. Keep all your glass clean, for the sake of others, as well as yourself.

CREAM

Cream knows no season. There is plenty available for your family's eating pleasure the year round. But because it's always with us, we don't get into the habit of buying cream "blind." Look at the label on the carton. It gives the name of the cream, sometimes the butterfat content (by percentage) and the volume in ounces. Although provincial or municipal regulations determine the butterfat content of sweet cream, generally speaking there are four main types.

Cereal Cream or "Half and Half" as it is sometimes called, contains about 10 percent butterfat and is the lightest type of cream. As the name indicates it is used mainly on cereals and sometimes in coffee or tea.

Table Cream — is next in richness to cereal cream. The butterfat content of this cream varies considerably — it may be as high as 30 percent or as low as 15 percent. In most markets however, it ranges from 18 to 20 percent. It may be used on puddings or other desserts.

Coffee Cream — Although in some centres this cream is similar to cereal cream, it is more likely to be of the same average richness as table cream (18 to 20 percent).

Whipping Cream — is the magic formula for transforming the plainest dessert into a gourmet's delight. Most of our commercial whipping cream contains 30 to 35 percent butterfat. Here are some tips from the Consumer Section in Ottawa on whipping and using this lovely cream.

Chill the cream, beaters and bowl for a perfectly whipped cream. Warm cream does not whip well.

Increase volume and decrease whipping time by adding sugar at the end of the whipping process.

Colour cream toppings by whipping in a few drops of food colouring.

Flavour whipped cream with flavouring extract to add variety to desserts. For example, peppermint flavoured cream with a drop of green colouring is ideal for a chocolate mint parfait. Just arrange alternate layers of chocolate pudding and the tinted whipped cream in a parfait glass and top with a green cherry.

Enhance pies and fruit desserts by adding spices to the whipped cream. Allspice, nutmeg and cinnamon are ideal for this topping on apple desserts, while ginger is a favourite with canned pears.

Combine whipped cream and mayonnaise for a salad dressing to complement fruit salads.

Cooking Comments

The potato has been a favourite vegetable for many years. The use of potatoes at least once a day can help people obtain such important riboflavin, reminds the Food and Nutrition Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

A serving of one medium sized baked potato without added butter or gravy, provides approximately the same number of calories as a tablespoon of honey, a 7-ounce bottle of ginger ale, or an average cookie. Therefore, potatoes should not be considered fattening unless consumed in excess, just as other foods are not fattening unless consumed in excess of body needs.

In addition to containing a similar number of calories, potatoes contain other essential nutrients such as iron, ascorbic acid, thiamine, and riboflavin in that soft drinks and other sweet desserts may not contain. Therefore, potatoes and other vegetables should be eaten first, as part of regular meals, before other extra treats are eaten. In this way an appetite is retained for the foods that are good for people. In addition, the Food and Nutrition Department of Macdonald Institute, Guelph, says that the calories from a potato will be more satisfying than a similar number of calories from most sweet treats and desserts.

To save both time and food value, cook potatoes in their jackets as often as possible. During cooking, the potato skin prevents loss of the nutrients to the cooking water.

Remember to always prepare potatoes just before mealtime; bake, boil or steam potatoes in their skins; cook until just ready to serve. If potatoes have been pared and boiled in a small amount of water, it is wise to use up every drop of cooking water. Either cook the potatoes until dry or use the stock in soup or gravy.

The best storage temperature for potatoes is 36 to 50 degrees F. Lower temperatures cause a sweet flavour and less favourable cooking qualities, according to the Food and Nutrition Department, Macdonald Institute, Guelph.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

THE MAGAZINES

I was delighted to see that Mr. Stuart Keate, publisher of the Victoria Times, saw fit to appear before the Royal Commission on Publications to say a word in favour of American magazines, defending both Time and Reader's Digest.

It is agreed that Canadian magazines are having a tough time. What is needed, however, is not some form of restriction against the fine American publications, but rather encouragement for the Canadian ones. I believe this will come about as a result of the Commission hearing — but not because of any laws that result from such hearings.

What is needed is simply more appreciation, by Canadians, of their own magazines. Every year, as Christmas gifts, I send as many subscriptions as I can afford to friends and relatives — subscriptions to Canadian magazines I feel have merit. If others who feel concerned about the welfare of Canadian magazines would do likewise, it would not be too long before they could total up fairly good balance sheets.

What Mr. Keate was worried about no doubt, was the possibility that the O'Leary Commission, in an effort to help our own magazines, would exclude the American ones. We certainly don't want to appear to close the door to the culture of a friendly country which has produced so many literary treats — such as Emerson, Thoreau, Faulkner and Hemingway.

Certainly the American publishers have been most friendly to Canadian writers. Mr. Keate himself spoke as a Canadian who spent five years writing for Time, Inc., and who has submitted material to Reader's Digest on a freelance basis.

I know, from personal experience, that American editors and broadcasters are most friendly and receptive to the Canadian writer.

Nevertheless, our own Canadian magazines are the best market for the Canadian writer who wants to deal almost exclusively with his own region and background. Editors at Chatelaine, Weekend, Maclean's, Liberty, Saturday Night, Toronto Star weekly, etc., as well as those who run the so-called "little" magazines, like Delta, do a great service for Canadian writers, giving them very special encouragement. Inasmuch as these magazines, or some of them, are having difficult times, it would seem reasonable that something be done to help them.

But do we need to damage American publications at the same time? I think not. Instead, let us promote our own and support our own. Surely Canadians would rally to that appeal without resort to legislation!

The average worker's hourly wage buys seven quarts of milk in Canada compared to two quarts in Russia; here a man's wool suit requires 23 hours work, compared to 275 hours work in Russia.

Those things that come to the man who waits seldom turn out to be the things he has been waiting for.

Ont. Diocesan W.A. Board Meeting

The Ontario Diocesan Woman's Auxiliary held the first meeting of the new year in St. James' Parish Hall, Kingston, with the President, Mrs. W. F. H. Mitchell, presiding. General conclusions from the study included these points: Perhaps school bus drivers should be chosen with greater care; they should be given special supplemental training.

Worn tires do not affect stopping ability as much as one might think. Smooth treads decrease gripping ability slightly on ordinary pavements, with the greatest decrease on wet surfaces. But the possibility of a dangerous blowout becomes serious after tires are worn smooth. Good tires are good sense.

Parental relationships can have a big effect on the way a boy drives. If the parent gets on well with the son, and has good driving habits, the boy will imitate him. NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

WINTER MILK FLAVOUR STILL A PROBLEM

Tainted milk has often been a problem with some dairy producers. Can the number of off-flavour rejects be reduced?

"Scientists have been looking for years for ways to eliminate taint from milk but their main stumbling block has been a physical way to measure intensity of flavour," explains Prof. Fred Hamilton, O.A.C. dairy researcher. "No machine has been found that can measure taste as well as the human taste buds." Unfortunately, humans differ in their measurement of flavours. Naturally, the lack of a measuring stick complicates any research on milk flavours, though it hasn't been through lack of trying.

"We know," says Professor Hamilton, "that the air that cows inhale may impart taints to the blood passing through the lungs. Apparently the blood corpuscles can pick up flavour molecules. If you keep in mind that 400 gallons of blood must pass through the mammary system before a gallon of milk is produced, you realize why it doesn't take too strong an odour to contaminate milk."

"And it takes only a minute or less for this taint to be transmitted to milk," he adds. "One scientist measured this by building a milk-producing machine. An artificial heart, lungs, and circulatory system were connected to an udder from a slaughtered cow. The machine, when filled with blood, produced milk."

"Another experiment showed that the feed flavours in milk resulting from the cow consuming feed, do not resemble the flavour of the feed. Yet those flavours inhaled do resemble the substance inhaled."

This means that turnip taste, for instance, isn't transferred to the milk. The turnip taste that we know, when acted upon by rumen organisms, changes. Probably the original flavour compounds are broken down or recombined to form new flavours, suggests Professor Hamilton.

In light of this evidence, he feels you can do something this winter to prevent odours in the stable from getting through to the milk. He advises:

- Feeding strong smelling and strong tasting feeds like silage after, not just prior to or during milking.

- Controlling ventilation in stables so that foul air can readily be exchanged for fresh air.

- Looking for bacterial causes if feed and air aren't the problem. Dirty pipelines, strainers, and milking machines are a main source of contamination. Rinse all equipment with cold water immediately after use. Ask your dairy for advice on the best cleansers and sanitizers.

Common Market Concerns Canada

Concern with present activities in Europe relating to export markets for agricultural products of Canada was expressed by Alex Turner, Director of the Economics Division of the Canada Department of Agriculture at the Dominion-Provincial Agricultural Conference in Ottawa.

He pointed out that the Common Market — comprising The Netherlands, Germany, Belgium, Luxembourg, France and Italy — is committed to setting up a common agricultural policy for its members. Canada needs to know if the final proposals will leave this country's producers with effective access to the Common Market with whose members it has long enjoyed profitable trade relations. The agricultural production of the Common Market covers about 90 percent of its members' requirements. Despite this, they will collectively constitute the largest importer of agricultural products in the world, absorbing almost one-third of the world imports in that category compared with the United Kingdom's one-fifth, said Mr. Turner.

From 1952 to 1959 Canadian exports of agricultural products to the Six, as these countries are called averaged about $160 million a year — roughly one-sixth of all Canadian agricultural exports. "Wheat is the biggest item in this trade, averaging about 70 percent of the total in value. In 1959, flaxseed, rapeseed, hides and skins, dry skimmed milk, oats, barley, mustard seed, tobacco, meats and dried eggs followed in that order of Canadian shipments; with the export of each exceeding one million dollars in value. Other important items in 1959 were apples, furs, soybeans and rye.

System of Variable Levies

One of the possibilities is that the Common Market will set up a system of variable levies. This means that a charge will be levied on certain agricultural products — wheat, fodder, grain, sugar and dairy produce — related to the difference between the world price and the support level in effect in the Six. Import certificates might be valid for not more than 3 months which is a very short time to consummate a trading transaction. Original proposals suggested that there will be a common external levy throughout the Six by 1967. This schedule now may be too ambitious since the Six have been having some difficulties in reaching agreement among themselves with respect to both internal and external operations for agriculture.

Variable levies are also proposed for eggs and poultry to be introduced at the beginning of 1961. These would be based on price difference between fodder grains within the Six. At the same time a low customs duty will be fixed to take care of differences in conditions of production not caused by differences in the cost of fodder. A minimum import price will be set as a safety measure and jointly applied. As soon as the import price — including levies and duties — falls below the minimum import price, the levies will be correspondingly increased.

The same principles as proposed for eggs are proposed for pork except that, until 1964, the levies will be fixed on the basis of the difference between the price of pork on the national markets and on the world market. A common external tariff only, is proposed for fruit and vegetables by 1967. With beef, external tariffs are to be gradually brought into line and it is proposed that a minimum import price will be uniform by January 1964.

Discourage Uneconomic Production

Mr. Turner remarked that if the variable levy becomes the main protectionist feature of Common Market agrarian policy, Canada's hope must be that any support price policy within the Six will not encourage uneconomic production to the extent of excluding imports. It is desirable that third countries, such as Canada, will be allowed sufficient access to maintain present exports and to participate in the market growth taking place in these countries through letting consumers have a free choice with respect to goods which we can supply. This growth could be substantial and we in Canada, as friendly trading partners, hope to participate in it.

We did not object to countries supporting their farmers but urged the encouragement of non-price measures which would lead to an improved structure in agriculture, rather than high prices to maintain or increase uneconomic production. For example, if the price support for wheat is raised substantially in France, that country could produce a great deal more wheat. In the long run it might be better for French farmers to improve their livestock production than be encouraged by high prices to go into more wheat.

The Council of Ministers for the Six is still studying its plans and the proposals put to it by the Commission, the administrative agency for the Six.

CONSERVATION NEWS

Fish And Wildlife

Trappers in the Tweed Conservation District have taken advantage of the good weather and the harvest of beaver has increased for the first 2 months of the season as compared to the same period the previous season.

The total fur sealed for trappers to the end of December 1960 is as follows:

Beaver — 4045 an increase of 2213
Fisher — 6
Mink — 656 a decrease of 173
Otter — 44

Beaver prices have remained good and local trappers who have shipped pelts to the Ontario Trappers Assoc. Fur Sales Service in North Bay were well pleased with their returns. Many trappers believe that this Sale Service is directly responsible for better prices received from local buyers.

At an average of $12.00 per beaver pelt, which appears to be what trappers are receiving from North Bay.

this means a revenue of over $48,000, during the first two months, for beaver alone.

TIMBER

Mechanized methods of extracting forest products from our forests will in future present more of a problem to our staff in determining the volumes cut. Scaling or exact measurement of each product, be it sawlogs, poles or pulpwood is presently undertaken and necessitates that the products be piled at certain places and in a definite manner to facilitate scaling. With production costs in mind, many operators are seeking ways and means of lowering extraction costs and such methods as "tree length yarding and slashing," are becoming more prominent, particularly in pulpwood operations. Highly efficient machines send the wood on a continuous flow from the forest to the mill or river without interruption for piling.

In the Tweed District where rough hardwood pulpwood is becoming an increasing percentage of the timber production, it has been felt that we should investigate to determine if there is an acceptable alternative to scaling this product and if so the methods which could be applied and their results. If an alternative method could be found several advantages would become evident. The jobber or operator would not need to pile his pulpwood thus effecting a considerable saving per cord on his pulpwood cut.

The Department would lower scaling costs especially because this product brings low stumpage rates which closely approximate the cost of scaling it. Where high value timber such as sawlogs are measured, high scaling costs may be tolerated. However, where a low value product such as rough hardwood pulpwood is involved, scaling cost should be minimized.

With these conclusions in mind, we set up a test in 1959-60 in a tolerant hardwood stand in Grimsthorpe Township. The area to be cut was delimited and every tree to be cut was marked, cruised and tallied according to quality classes in order to estimate cull. The stand was then cut, simulating standard operating methods as closely as possible.

The cut was then scaled and both the tally of cruised trees and the scale were compiled for comparison. The results showed a great deal of promise, so much so that the test is being duplicated this winter in McClelland Township which carries different volumes and types of stands than the original. It is, of course, extremely important that our findings be satisfactorily confirmed before selling hardwood pulpwood on the stump, but we believe that a step forward has been taken in investigating this aspect of the cruising — scaling relationship.

Model Tractor Shows How Accidents Happen

A farm accident demonstration using a model tractor and spreader proved to be one of the most popular features of the one-week short course just concluded at the Ontario Agricultural College.

The model equipment reveals the accidents that can happen when hitches are too high or too low, when poles are chained to the rear wheels to get tractors out of low spots, and when a power take-off is left unshielded. The model tractor is also used to demonstrate a flashing amber light warning system for highway travel.

The equipment has been used for demonstrations at the International Plowing Match and on films shown across Canada. The equipment and the demonstrations have been developed by the agricultural engineering extension staff of the Ontario Department of Agriculture.

As testimony of the worth of the equipment in a farm safety education programme, seventeen individual states of the United States, together with a number of organizations, have requested information on the construction of this demonstration equipment. This is being supplied, together with plans and detailed instructions.

Winter Diving At Oak Lake

Three members of the Quinie Aqua Divers Club, Belleville, John MacDonald, Don Dalrymple and Dennis Kent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kent, of River Valley, gave an exhibition of diving at Oak Lake just off the shore at Seale's Beach Sunday afternoon. A good crowd, including many from Stirling district, watched the three divers go below for a 20-minute period to test out some new equipment and determine its suitability under extreme conditions. The equipment, as it turned out, worked fine — underwater. As soon as the divers emerged, however, it froze up, providing a bit of a problem when it came to shedding the equipment.

Mount Pleasant Mission Band

Leader, Mrs. Harry McAdam; Assistants, Mrs. Herbert Smith and Mrs. Stanley Williams; President, Barbara Williams; Vice-President, Nancy David; Secretary, Carolyn Johnson; Assistant Secretary, Donna Knight; Treasurer, Betty McAdam; Assistant Pianist, Jean Sharpe.

Mrs. Herbert Smith introduced the new study book to the older Band members and told the story of "The Long Robe." This centred on a rice straw rope which was four hundred and fifty-three feet long. The boy who made it earned a New Testament and the Colporteur was proud of his work. This story is taken from "Adventures with the Bible" for Junior Mission Bands.

The primary children enjoyed a story entitled, "The Fourth Train Stop" from their new study book, "Here and There with the Bible." Mrs. Stanley Williams was in charge of this story which showed how a little boy helped others to learn more of the Bible.

There were seven adults and thirty-three children in attendance. The next programme will be prepared by Joyce Cooney and Sally McAdam.

OF MANY THINGS

(By Ambrose Hills)

SOME GOALS FOR 1961

There are several goals which Canada must aim for during 1961 if we are to have continued prosperity. One goal is increased exports.

About one-fifth of our gross national product is accounted for by exports, whereas the USA depends on exports for only one-twentieth of its GNP.

We have a small domestic market to begin with. On top of that handicap, we have loaded ourselves with expensive government services. These costs find their way into the prices of our exported goods, and buyers begin to resist. Foreign buyers do not wish to pay for our social services and vast power projects.

Another roadblock to exports and even selling in our own domestic market is the high cost of Canadian labor. The high wages paid to those who are working are actually making it less likely that others can be employed. Canadian labour, in its own self-interest, should wish to see productivity increase to the point where prices can be lowered so that our products and services can be sold in competition with those of other countries and other trading blocs.

Another goal we must aim for is a reduced tax bill. The government took some steps in that direction with its baby budget. So far, so good; but what is needed is a massive reduction in all tax rates, so that these reductions would be reflected in lower prices. From such action we could expect to see business humming again just as it has been humming in West Germany. And from lower tax rates the government would eventually reap an even higher volume of revenue.

In short, Canadians should take stock. We live in a country with bountiful natural resources; but it is a cold and sparsely-populated country and many of our resources are hard to get at. Unless there are incentives to develop them, and the possibility of selling the resulting products, they do us no good.

Canada's economic situation is much sadder than some of the gloomy commentators would have us believe. The present government, it must be admitted, inherited a great number of problems. The world situation is uneasy. Competition is stiffer than it has been for a long time. The days when we could export or consume everything we produced, regardless of price are gone. We must cut costs, increase productivity, and generally act like a team that knows it is playing in a tougher league.

Most of the wood used in making paper is unsuitable for making good lumber.

Presbyterian W.M.S. Plans For Annual Meeting Here

Tabernacle United Church, Belleville, Evening Auxiliary, were hostesses to the Belleville Presbyterian Executive on Friday when plans were made for the annual meeting to be held February 20th (evening) and February 21st (all day) at Stirling. Rev. R. J. Sherwin opened the meeting reading from Joshua, in which Joshua is commanded to lead his people after the death of Moses. He was told to be strong and have courage as we must be in facing the challenge of the New Year, with its responsibilities and dangers. The ladies of the church are all looking forward to the New Organization when the WMS and WA will become. He closed with prayer and the singing of the hymn "O for a faith that will not shrink."

Mrs. Clarence Holmes, President expressed her appreciation to all the executive for their assistance during her term of office. She has resigned in favour of Mrs. Geo. Carlisle, Vice President, so that she may become president for the remaining year of the Presbyterian. Mrs. Holmes welcomed Mrs. O. Bertrand Secretary for the Explorer Groups on the Conference Branch and Mrs. J. Davidson, President of the Belleville Presbytery Woman's Association. Brief reports were given by all secretaries. Mrs. P. MacMullen presented the literature. Supply Secretary, Mrs. Garnet May, reported the need for blankets in Tunisia, Morocco and Pakistan which were declared disaster areas. Miss Ethel Morton consented to prepare the reports which must be in to her by February 1st. Mrs. Holmes reported on her many visits to various group meetings during her term of office. After singing the hymn "Lord Speak To Me That I May Speak," the ladies adjourned for lunch.

The afternoon session was devoted mainly to plans for Presbyterian Annual. The theme will be "Into All the World Together." Special speakers will be Miss Kate Rutherford, B.A., missionary on furlough from Angola, who will address the evening session being planned especially for the CGIT, Explorer and Mission Band groups; also the February 21st afternoon meeting. Mrs. B. H. Soper, of Smiths Falls, President of the Bay of Quinte Conference Branch, will address the ladies during the morning session of February 21st.

Several delegates from each auxiliary in the Belleville Presbyterian will be attending this annual.

Mrs. Holmes called on the vice-president for their reports. She announced the visit of Miss Marion Thompson, Field Secretary, to the Belleville area and plans were made for her visits to the sections as follows:

Madoc, April 24th; Belleville-East and West, April 25th; Prince Edward, April 26th; Napanee North and South, April 27th. Miss Thompson will hold these conferences with presidents and leaders of all groups.

Miss Hettie Unger, of Picton, was appointed to attend a Visual Aids Workshop week-end at the Hotel Quinte on January 27th. Mrs. Leon Ward presented the Nominating Committee report. To close the meeting Mrs. Holmes quoted from Isaiah 26: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee."

Researchers have collected the words and music of 14,000 different French-Canadian folk songs.

A GENERAL MOTORS VALUE

Any weather is Corvair weather

This is a car designed and built to handle the extremes of Canada's climate and weather conditions. Designed to keep you snug as a bug in February — cool as a cucumber in July. Built to outstay a cold snap — to shrug off a heat-wave.

But driving's believing! Slide behind the wheel of a Corvair and you'll see how it handles Canadian weather conditions.

ALL-WEATHER PERFORMANCE: Corvair starts with lively cockiness. The engine is impervious to freezing rain or summer heat — can't freeze up — won't ice up — can't boil over!

ALL-WEATHER TRACTION: Corvair digs in and goes through winter's snow and slush, spring's mud and summer's sand. The rear-engine design gives it perfect balance for all road conditions.

ALL-WEATHER ROOMINESS: Holds six — with overcoats. Sedans and coupes have lots of storage space behind the rear seat and in their 12% larger trunk.

ALL-WEATHER COMFORT: In summer you appreciate the splendid ventilation, plus the fact that engine heat is behind you. And in winter, a hot air heater blankets you in warmth.

ALL-WEATHER THRIFT: New engine air-flow control speeds warm-up — allows it to get to its gas-saving ways even faster than before. And, of course, Corvair needs no power brakes or steering, water pump, anti-freeze or even water! Try it for size! Try it for price! You'll see Corvair fits you and your budget in every way!

NEWS FOR THE BUSY FARMER

SPEAKER WARNS MANY FARM ORGANIZATIONS NEED TO REBUILD

A national farm organization executive warned recently that "horse and buggy concepts" must be abandoned by agricultural organizations if they are to earn the continued financial and moral support of farmers.

The need for modern attitudes was stressed by Charles A. Cameron, Executive Secretary of Dairy Farmers of Canada. He spoke at the annual luncheon meeting of the Ontario Cream Producers Marketing Board.

Mr. Cameron charged that too many farm organizations "in both Canada and the United States," are clinging stubbornly to concepts that were acceptable 25 or 30 years ago. "One of the most dangerous of these is the belief that agricultural groups should be a combination of an action committee and a social club," he said.

(Mr. Cameron recently returned to his native Canada after working with U.S. farm organizations for five years).

"If indifferent or self-seeking people are elected to boards of directors, we get ineffective farm organizations; if dedicated, well informed men are elected to our boards, we get associations that blaze pioneering trails for others to follow," the speaker noted.

He said that "Canadian agriculture has an achievement record which is above average for any given industry," but that average effort has not been good enough.

"The average effort has resulted in many farm organizations developing a bad case of 'governmentitis' or desperately searching for all-wise saviours who are supposed to provide leadership.

"Governmentitis becomes a disease when organizations fail to act realistically, run to government for assistance, then find they can get help with the inevitable rider that an element of government control must be accepted as part of the deal," the speaker said.

Mr. Cameron noted that farm organizations have a responsibility to continue seeking the best possible prices for agricultural products, but added that pricing is only part of modern group work.

"They must be prepared to look beyond this immediate question so that they can devise realistic remedies for their current problems, avoid the repetition of past mistakes and plan intelligently for the future," he said.

The speaker doubted that subsidies can be considered "realistic remedies." He charged that waste is the inevitable result if subsidies result in increased production without increased consumption to take care of the added quantities of a commodity placed on the market.

According to Mr. Cameron, many current agricultural problems could be solved through "rural development or rural rehabilitation programmes" recommended by several farm groups.

He said these are based on the "simple truths" that much land now being used for specific crops would return better standards of living to their operators if they were used for other purposes.

"There is virtually no limit to the broader activities in which farm organizations should be engaged," he said. "We need research into every phase of production and marketing, vast improvements in information and educational programmes available to farmers and realistic approaches to problems that should be solved without running to government."

The speaker warned that many farm organizations will need to be rebuilt.

"To rebuild, they are going to require dedicated, well-informed leaders capable of looking at facts and acting on them without considering the external or internal politics involved. The organizations we need today must be controlled, governed and directed by conscientious farmers who know what is needed and will work to get it," he said.

The speaker charged that "a peculiar, outmoded state of mind" is the only thing delaying the solution of farm problems.

"You cannot work with this state of mind, because it feeds on indifference, is fixed, immovable and dedicated to the idea that things must be kept as they are because they are familiar and comfortable.

"The effective farmer does not keep non-productive cattle in a herd. He should not be expected to keep non-productive farm organizations in existence," the speaker said.

Premier Frost Endorses Minor Hockey Week

The Honourable Leslie Frost, Prime Minister of Ontario, Tuesday authorized the following release:

Ontario Office of The Prime Minister and President of the Council

It is always a great pleasure for me to associate in the celebration of Minor Hockey Week in Canada. I have always enjoyed Canada's favourite sport and I am more convinced than ever that it is one of the finest forms of recreation that can be found anywhere.

I think hockey is of special value to our young boys and, consequently, it is my view that all those interested in public affairs and social welfare should see that the game is played and enjoyed by as many of them as possible.

I would like to commend the many fine citizens who are helping the game carry on as league officials, managers, coaches, and referees in minor leagues. I wish to congratulate all those who take time out to attend the games and cheer on our young ones to greater efforts.

Hockey has helped train the generations that have brought this country into world prominence. By supporting Minor Hockey in Canada, we are helping develop a new generation that will bring further fame and glory to our nation.

Leslie M. Frost,
Prime Minister of Ontario

The President announced that the hostesses for each month in 1961 were posted in the Parish Hall and that if anyone who cannot act on the month designated make her own arrangements with another member.

The members then went to the chapel and viewed slides based on this year's study book, "Toward the Centre," shown by Rev. Gale.
